A BEAUTIFUL DAY.

Like Auts the People Swarmed from their Houses.

THOUSANDS CROSSED THE RIVER

On the New Ferry-beat, Charlester The Bridges Carried Very Few Prople-Water Street Property Increases in Value-Rumor of an Injunetion by the Bridge Company.

Yesterday was an ideal spring day, and people generally took advantage of it to make a day's outing out of it. The attendance at the churches was very large, and the bright spring costumes that were to have been shown on Easter Sunday, were a pleasant feature of the day yesterday. During the afternoon the streets were crowded, and the street cars and motor trains carried many thousands out to the country and to the neighboring towns. The wheelmen, too, fair weather knights as ever. took advantage of the fine condition of the pikes and the balmy weather, and made pilgrimages awheelback in all directions from the city.

To the Islanders, however, the day was indeed an eventful one—they were out, horse and foot, man, woman and child to inspect their new conveyance to the city proper—their ferry boat, the Charleston. As on Friday and Saturday no fare was charged on the boat, and throughout the day, especially in the alteracon, the craft was crowded to its utmost capacity every trip. There was attendon, the craft was crowded to its utmost capacity every trip. There was not a minute in the afternoon when there was not a perfect stream of people passing up and down Water and Twelfth streets, to and from the boat. As a Water street merchant remarked, the Island ferry is going to be the making of water and Twelfth streets. Property on the former, thereuslifters is erty on the former thoroughfare is already being held at large advances on former prices-averaging about 25 per The Charleston's crew are now handling the craft in much better shape than Saturday or Friday. Round trips are now made easily in eight minutes, and it is claimed that those who patronince it will not lose any time over the time required to walk over the bridges. Speaking of the bridges, it was a much remarked upon fact that they practi-ally did no business yesterday. The usual throng of pedestrians was strange-be missing. ly missing.

It was said vesterday that the Wheel-

It was said yesterday that the Wheeling Bridge Company would seeme an injunction to-day from the courts, restraining the operation of the boat as it now runs, the ground of the injunction being that the ferey company is occupying ground that belongs to the bridge by city grants and that the bridge company has the exclusive ferry privilege.

A SMALL BOY MAY DIE

As the Result of Injuries from a Horse Driven by Drunken Men. About half past 5 o'clock last evening

Ernest Kloeizer, the five-year-old son of Ernest Kloetzer, an employe of the Reymann brewery, whose home is in Alley II, was run over by a horse on McColloch street near Fourteenth, and received injuries which may prove fatal.

Two drunken men, unknown to any of the people who saw them, were driving about in East Wheeling. They nearly run over Mr. George Hibbard, the plumber, and barely missed a man who was trinming a city are light.

Officer Wilkie heard the story of the drunken men driving recklesly through the streets and injuring the boy, and reported at headquarters. He found that the two men had eaten dinner with a friend who lives on East Fourteenth street, and going there he learned that they were named Perce and Morritz, and lived in South Bellaire, where Perce's father owns a coal mine, and Morritz works for him.

where Perge's lather owns a coat mine, and Morritz works for him.

Squire Gillespy issued a warrant for the two mon on the charge of assault on the Kloetzer child "with intent to maim, disfigure, disable and kill." A telephone message was sent to Bellaire and Morritz was taken into custody there. Perge had cone to his home below town, but the Bellaire officers said they would bring both the men here this morning
